6. "When he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped Hum." The man in his afflict and worshipped Hum." The man in his afflict and he runs to seek it and not in vain. The man ran to Jesus, but the spirit in him cried out against Him. It is often the case, perhaps in some measure always, that when one would come necessive always, that when one would come to Jesus for salvation, or deliverance from lessetting sin, the evil spirit within cries out against it and still says "I will not have to do with Jesus."

H-17. "And they went out to ac what it was that was done, and they come to Jesus." Matt. vii. 38 says that the whole city came out to meet Jesus. What a sight this is, here is a multitude of men, women and children who have for the time being left everything and gathered unto Jesus, their Creator, ready to be their Redeem, their Creator, ready to be their Redeem, and will surely be their Judge, but they know Himned. In the multi, at the feet of Jesus (Loke vii, 25), is the man known and Garaed by them all, the terre of the place lost what a change, he is sitting, and clothed sold in his right mind.

The demons and the talastrees get their re-quests, but this man's is denied. Learn from his that answers to prayer do not aways in-dicate love, nor denials anger. To be one with Him and reat in His will is everything.
